City Favors Original Parcel 15 Location for School Site

by Sandra Barnes

The main issue at Monday's city council meeting centered around what the council would say at the meeting between the Board of Education, the County Commissioners and council on the following day, (and reported on in an accompanying News Review article.).

First, councilman Joel Katz expressed his view that as far as he knew council had always opposed the school site selected by the board of education, and that it is still opposed to the location.

Greenbelt Homes, Inc. president, Charles Schwan rose to commend Mayor Francis White, councilman Edgar Smith and Richard Pilski, and city manager James Giese for the "magnificent" way in which they presented the city's position to Governor Marvin Mandel on March 9.

Council then unanimously went on record as opposing Parcel Two for the school site and as still favoring Parcel Fifteen south of the lake. In a motion by Smith, council also unanimously agreed to offer the same inducements to the school board as it had in 1966 when the battle over the school site was first begun. (These inducements included offering the board five acres of park land.)

GHI Supports Council

GHI also went on record as supporting the council's efforts with the school board and county commissioners.

Hugh Jascourt commented that it was just such a new group as the Save Our Community people who could rejuvenate the issue when many others had felt that the battle had been fought and lost, and that the whole issue was dead.

Jascourt also wanted to know where the students would be coming from who would be attending the high school, as this information would help determine the traffic patterns. Council felt it would be just speculation to pursue this question as the school board did not have clear guidelines.

State Legislation

Council agreed to support Senate Bill no. 643, introduced by Senator Edward Conroy, which provided for reconsideration of rezoning after five years if the property is still undeveloped.

House bill no. 833 council opposed as it would modify rule interpretations for state versus local laws so as to weaken home rule powers of cities and counties.

Council opposed House bill no. 928 which would delete restrictions placed upon the state police regarding the circumstances under which they can enter a city.

Council supported house bill No. 1310 which provided for the registration and protection of governmental emblems.

Other

John Price, representing Citizens for a Better Environment, asked for and received $25 for use on Environment Day for publicity, displays, and exhibits.

Council agreed that it would pay all costs related to the purchase of the Lutheran church property as, in the opinion of the city solicitor, such expenses (under $1000 in this case) are normally incurred by the purchaser.

Giese reported that the board of the Greenbelt Jaycees is satisfied with the lease drawn up for the club house next to St. Hugh's School, and council instructed the city manager to execute the lease on behalf of the city.

The city manager and city treasurer were authorized to make purchases, not in excess of $200, for a variety of accessory parts for equipment in the maintenance shop.

Dance-Party to Fete News Review Staff

A gala dance-party will be held to honor the staff of the Greenbelt News Review early in May. The decision was made last week at a meeting attended by friends of the newspaper who wanted to express their appreciation, somehow, to the staff of the paper for its work on behalf of the community. Among those in attendance at the first planning meeting were Ann Pisano, Tina Pristoop, Priscilla Rosetti, Norman Weyel, Charlie Schwan, Al Herling, and Harry Zukoff.

In order to attract the greatest possible number of participants, the cost of attendance will be set at the lowest possible figure. This is not a money-raising affair, it was stressed, but rather one which will bring the most Greenbelters together to pay tribute to their local newspaper and to the men and women who work on it.

Further details regarding the exact time, date and location will be announced in future issues of the newspaper.

Parcel 7 Price Set

The city of Greenbelt and representatives of the owners of Parcel 7, Reiner, Lerner, and Ammerman, trustees, reached agreement at a meeting on Wednesday, March 11, on the purchase price for the tract, which will be developed as a public park. The agreed-on price was $18,000 per acre, or a total price of $158,625, for the 8.8125-acre tract.

Since half the cost of the purchase will be provided by a federal grant under the Open Space program of the Dept. of Housing and Urban Development, the city will not be able to develop the tract as a par 3 golf course, which was originally suggested by the landscape architects who drew up a long-range program for park development within the city. The federal government does not allow purchase of land for golf courses in its Open Space program. For this reason, the city's Parks and Recreation Advisory Board has requested that the plan be referred back to the firm for redesigning.

Parcel 7 is a denuded section at the entrance to Boxwood Village bounded by Crescent Rd., Ridge Rd., Ivy Lane, and Lastner Lane.

Local Man Appointed

A Greenbelt resident, Howard S. Chasanow, has been named by Governor Marvin Mandel as one of three substitute Prince Georges County People's Court judges. The others appointed were Thomas R. Brooks, former Greenbelt city solicitor, and Josef B. Brown. All three must be confirmed by the Maryland Senate to their four-year terms. Substitute judges usually sit at least one day a week.

SCHOOL SITE ISSUE STIMULATES MUCH DISCUSSION AT GHI MTG.

by Sid Kastner

The school site-perimeter road issue, foremost in the minds of Greenbelt citizens, in recent days, surfaced at the regular meeting last Thursday of Greenbelt Homes, Inc., directors. Director Alex Chavrid brought it up for an anticipated five minute discussion which stretched out for one and a half hours- other matters on the agenda (a report on committee activities, etc.) were completely overshadowed.

Chairman Charles Schwan started by describing his visit to Governor Mandel last week as a member of Greenbelt's delegation. He related how Mayor Francis White reviewed the problem at length for the Governor, who "listened carefully" but made no promises. Chavrid, reminding the board that some groups in the city are now actively against the presently designated school site, asked the board to go on record as also opposing it. He was joined in this position by Directors Norman Weyel and John O'Reilly. Directors Katherine Keene, David Lange and Stephen Polaschik, however, voiced the view that more would be lost than gained through this approach. Lange said that much preliminary work had been completed on the planning of the school complex and perimeter road location.

Milton Hoffman and Thomas White, members of the audit committee, argued strongly that "everybody in Greenbelt" is against the school location. Hoffman related that he had found a great majority of Lakewood residents willing to sign an anti-school site petition, even though they were not as directly involved as GHI residents.

Schwan, though attempting to maintain a neutral position, emphasized that city officials were already aware of the possibility of changing the school site and that indeed half of Mayor White's presentation to the Governor had dealt with the unsuitability of the site. Director Nat Shinderman felt that "the citizens need to be united with the city", to be successful in having the location changed.

Motion Passed

Successive motions by Chavrid and by director Keene, to have GHI take relatively strong positions against the school site, failed for lack of seconds. However, a more moderately-worded motion by Shinderman was passed unanimously; it urged the city council to "concentrate its primary efforts toward effecting the reconsideration by the school board of the pro-

NO IMMEDIATE SOLUTIONS TO SCHOOL SITE PROBLEMS

by Elaine Skolnik

A sharpening and clarification of viewpoints but no solutions was the outcome of a two-hour work session held on Tuesday, March 17, by city and county officials to discuss perimeter road and school site problems. County commission chairman Francis Aluisi presided over the meeting at Upper Marlboro which was attended by four Greenbelt city council members, county school officials, and commissioner Gladys Spellman. About 30 visitors were in the audience.

Prince Georges Board of Education Chairman W. Carroll Beatty told the assemblage that the school board, which has largely a new membership, has once again reviewed the choice of parcel 2 (the land between Baltimore-Washington Parkway and Greenbelt Homes, Inc. properties) for a three-school complex, and it feels that it is still the best choice under the circumstances.

Greenbelt Mayor Francis W. White reiterated the city's undying opposition to the parcel 2 site because of the unsolvable traffic problems that would be created by a near 5,000 school population seeking daily access to the virtually land-locked site.

One school board member, A. James Golatto, said it was his impression that the city had approved the site at one time and was surprised when councilmen Edgar Smith, Dick Pilski, and White in unison said they have never been in agreement with the site in the 5 to 10 years that each has served on council. "This," said White, "is an example of how our positions get misrepresented."

Alternate Sites

Despite the almost "irreversible" label that Beatty put on the school board decision, the subject of alternate sites cropped up throughout the meeting - the two most prominently being mentioned were (1) the original site favored by the Board and the City, parcel 15 - the land south of Greenbelt Lake adjacent to the Beltway and (2) the Smith-Ewing property, a 70-plus acre tract east of the Baltimore-Washington Parkway north of Greenbelt Road.

School board official Elliott B. Robertson said that parcel 15 had been considered undesirable because it would be expensive to acquire and to develop. Also the tract by present standards is too small to accommodate a senior high school. Beatty said that the condemnation costs in 1965 of the apartment-zoned parcel 15 would have been approximately $23,500 to $30,000 per acre, but White observed that the land is presently zoned for single-family homes and that the city is purchasing similarly zoned nearby land for $18,000 an acre.

Beatty said that the school board has already invested a considerable sum in parcel 2. Combining the junior and senior high schools will lead to considerable savings in the use of common heating and other facilities, Beatty said, thus permitting such extra features as an auditorium. He noted that the delays in commencing construction have already put the opening date for the senior high school back to September 1972. If delayed any longer, he warned, half the children will be on double shift.

Robertson added that the parcel 2 site was also chosen because of its central location. Edgar Smith then suggested that the undeveloped Smith-Ewing property was also centrally located. In addition, he said, it would have the advantage of a ready access to a major arterial road. This was also an advantage cited by Mayor White for the parcel 15 site which could have a second access from Crescent Road.

Access Roads

Reaching an impasse on the school site location, the group then turned to the question of providing access roads to the senior high school. The problem, chairman Aluisi said, was a lack of money. The county is on an austerity program; the school board does not have money to engage in a road-building program; and the city cannot be expected to bear the expense of these roads which "could break the city of Greenbelt and cause some serious problems," Aluisi said.

Mayor White said that the schools are a county function and the county or school board should bear the costs of the roads. When site costs are considered, he said, the school board should also consider other costs of development such as roads. The city is not equipped to step in and provide the improvement to Greenbelt's roads that are necessary to accommodate the three-school complex.

Councilman Pilski observed that if the school board is going to shift

"Nothing to Lose"

To the Editor:

The decision by the Prince Georges County School Board to locate a school complex (senior high, junior high, and elementary school) just off Ridge Road in the center of old Greenbelt is not simply an example of poor planning; it represents a complete negation of the whole concept of planning. There isn't very much of the green, with its accompanying beauty and peacefulness, for which Greenbelt was once famous, left anyway. Rapidly we are coming to look more and more like downtown Hyattsville. The proposed school site, if the schools are in fact built, will surely hasten the decline. Already with a population of some 20,000 we are feeling the effects of overpopulation—but we are told cheerily that in ten years Greenbelt's population will double. Hooray! I for one can wait.

But we Greenbelters are going to be ready for the population explosion, for beginning next year we are going to encounter some basic training in how to live in an overcrowded city. At least during the daytime! The senior high school, for which the groundbreaking will probably take place in early summer, will hold some 2400 students; and, get this, friends, as many as 500 of them will actually come from Greenbelt. The rest will come pouring into the City every morning, stuffed into endless rows of yellow buses, roaring and polluting their way of Southway, Northway, Hamilton Place, Ridge, Research, and Crescent Roads, and Lastner Lane, disgorging their cargoes and roaring back out again to reappear shortly after lunchtime for a similar afternoon ritual, this time in reverse. Those who live on the roads mentioned above, roads that were not intended to be major arteries, and others nearby, will have little to thank the School Board for.

There are many in the City who fought, and fought hard, against the School Board's decision on the school site, even resorting to legal action, to no avail. Most now concede that nothing can be done. Well, perhaps that is true. But I do not see that as a reason not to try. I am not sure what "trying" in this instance means—perhaps another law suit, or the proposal of an alternate, more acceptable school site, a plea for the intercession of the Governor. Perhaps what I am saying seems terribly naive! perhaps it is. Still, when I consider the alternative—the school complex—I figure we have nothing to lose from one more try, but a whole lot to lose if the proposed site is not blocked.

One remaining thing occurs to me that I feel I ought to say, since I indirectly opened the question of busing children. Let me go on record as saying I have no objection to busing children if that is the best way to get them to the school they should attend. School sites are another matter. I most emphatically object to schools being built where they disrupt and destroy the tranquility of quiet, residential areas.

If it is too late to change the decision on the school site, that is most unfortunate for the future of Greenbelt. But should we concede until the bricks are actually in the ground? I for one think not.

Excellent Music

To the Editor:

I wish to thank the Woman's Club of Greenbelt for sponsoring an excellent program of music on Tuesday, March 10. The choral and individual presentations provided by Parkdale Senior High School students were very enjoyable. The director, Mr. Dale Nonnemacher is a remarkable music teacher. Each selection was announced by a student who had prepared a description of it. Also some of the presentations were arranged so the students sang in small groups. In short, the evening's program provided both enjoyment for the nearly 200 persons in the audience and an opportunity for a large number of individual performances.

"Overwhelming Concern"

To the Editor:

For the past week or so, I have have been involved in circulating a petition which, in part, reads "we, the undersigned, urgently request that the Greenbelt City Council take immediate and decisive action to halt negotiations for the construction of the Senior High School on Parcel 2."

For the people who fought "the good fight" several years ago they are to be commended most highly for their past efforts. If some of these very same people feel there is nothing more that can be done, please listen to my words. First, do think very seriously about signing the petition when it comes your way. If you missed it, there are some at High's and Twin Pines.

Secondly, Gail Chavrid (474-2195) who is in charge of petitions would welcome all the help she can get in circulating them. Thirdly, and I feel, most importantly, there is the City Council meeting this coming Monday evening, March 23, at 8 o'clock, which all of the people are most urgently requested to attend to voice their "overwhelming concern" about this situation.

I feel that the people have put their trust in their elected officials and that if their representatives are not responsive to their desires and needs, then they have betrayed that trust. We must leave no stone unturned to do everything within our power to "save our community".

"WHY THE CHURCH"

Dr. George Reeves, leader of the Probe discussion group, "Why The Church?", announces the resource person for this week's session will be Don Hudson, proprietor of the "Lamplighter" bookshop in College Park. Mr. Hudson is a member of a congregation which desires to be known as Christians, rather than be identified with any sect. His concern as a member of this group is to try and restore the spirit and form of the First century church.

posed location of the senior high school on Parcel 2." Thus it separates the senior high school from the two lower schools in its effect on the community.

Appointments

Turning to other corporation affairs, manager Roy Breashears gave a short review of the activities of the various committees, which Shinderman had requested earlier. The only definite actions taken during this review were the appointments of former director James Smith and Joseph Vella to be chairmen respectively of the maintenance committee and the committee of community esthetics. The manager reported that he is also developing a list of all corporation regulations, at the suggestion of director Norman Weyel, which might then be assigned to the various committees for scrutiny.

The board also listened to the case of a resident of 56 Court of Crescent Road, who had constructed a partly enclosed porch or patio without obtaining staff approval and a county building permit. The situation is complicated by the presence of a WSSC sewer line in the area. The resident couple explained that they were willing to take up the floor if need arose for repairs to the line. Though the directors generally agreed the construction was an improvement to the home, they expressed some disapproval that the members had gone ahead as they did. Lange noted that future owners of the home would have to assume the liability. The matter was tabled until more information is available.

A tour of improved GHI homes and gardens is slated for May 3, according to director Keene; any members who would like to have their homes or those of acquaintances included on the tour are encouraged to contact the manager's office.

The date of GHI's hearing before the Maryland Tax Court took place on Wednesday, March 18. GHI is protesting the county re-assessment of its properties.

Thanks

To the Editor:

I hardly know how to express my gratitude to all my friends. Since my accident several weeks ago, there has been an unceasing flow of generosity and thoughtfulness that can only happen in Greenbelt. I am particularly grateful for the many kindnesses shown my children.

Junior Highlights

by Debbie Hibbs

Ninth grader Craig Rich was the grand prize winner at Greenbelt Junior High's 19th Annual Science Fair which took place February 28 to March 1 in the cafeteria. His project, entitled "Seven Month Study - Spa Creek Pollution," was a detailed study of the pollution in a creek along the Severn River. Second grand prize was won by Steven Gunn and the third grand prize winner in the fair was Rebecca Ritchie.

Competing against 50 entered projects, here is a list of the students who won first prize in their categories: Sue Goldstein - Behavioral Science; Steven Gunn - Botany; Rebecca Ritchie - Chemistry; Kenny Moffat - Communications; Craig Rich - Environmental and Space Sciences; Charles Gandy - Mathematics; Kimberly Statham - Medical Science; James Hobby - Planning and Architecture; and Edith Beauchamp - Zoology.

A new teaching policy has been set up by the Prince Georges Board of Education concerning 8th and 9th grade science. Instead of learning by a teacher-oriented method, students now learn by discovering and recording their own data through experiments in class.

As the 1969-70 basketball season ended, G.J.H.S. Golden Bears finished with a record of 8-4, leaving them in third place. Greenbelt's wrestlers ended their season with two wins out of seven matches. Super-scorer David Rosetti led the team with his record of six wins, one tie, and one pin.

BOY'S CLUB NEWS

by Rick Mest

The Greenbelt Boys' Club, according to last week's scoreboard, found three of its teams undefeated in the final half of the season. The 13 and under, 14 and under and 16 and under teams all sport 4-0 marks in the second half play. The 10 and under team holds a 2-1 record in this half, and the 11 and under group have split their games with a 1-1 record. The following boys have been noted as playing outstanding second half games for their teams: Mike Mayham, 10 and under; David Dredger and Russell Maffay, 11 and under; Joel Aulisio, 12 and under; Joe Sheets and Kevin Green, 13 and under; Jeff Fountain and Jerry Jenkins, 14 and under; Jubio Aulisio and Richard Pilski, 15 and under; Mike Madden, Alan Burt and under team also is undefeated.

Greenbelt's 14 and under team has won all of its games in the second half and plays undefeated Landover next week, probably to decide the championship. The 13 and under team also is undefeated in the second half and meets undefeated Belair at Belair for the 13 and under championship. The 16 and under team ran their total season record to 17-0 by defeating once-beaten Bladensburg 62-56 at Bladensburg. The team combined the balanced scoring attack of Mickey Corbin, Alan Burk and Rick Lundregan, plus a powerful rebounding job by Mike Madden and Jeff Cassels, to gain the victory and insure themselves a playoff berth in the County finals.

At 4-H Achievement Night, Holly Geller received an award in clothing and Sharon O'Reilly was given a prize for her record book.

On March 20 the members will make chocolate-covered Easter eggs at the Karlander home.

Future Land Development Probed by City Officials

City officials had a series of meetings recently with State administrators, during which a number of matters concerning the future development of Greenbelt were probed.

The first such meeting was held on Thursday, March 5, between Mayor Francis W. White, City Manager James K. Giese, and Administrative Assistant Gary Stenhouse, representing Greenbelt, and W. C. Dutton, Jr., chairman of the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission, and several members of his staff. The topic under discussion was what portion of money allocated to Prince Georges County under the Federal "Open Spaces" acquisition program Greenbelt might be eligible to receive.

The State also maintains a program to aid municipalities in acquisition of land for use as parks. Under the State program, municipalities would pay 50% of the cost and the State the other 50%. If Federal funds are allocated for such land acquisition, the Federal grant would amount to 50%, with both the State and the municipality each paying 25% of the remainder. According to Giese, Greenbelt hopes to receive substantial help from the State program to supplement the city's own land acquisition program.

This conference with Dutton followed a formal program for City and town Administrators, at which the State aid program for open spaces acquisition was described by Harry Hunter, Chief of Recreation Services for the State Department of Forests and Parks.

Proposed Merger

A second topic discussed with Dutton was a proposal before the legislature in the form of a bill, considered to have a good chance of passage this year, which would merge the County recreation department with the MNCPPC. This potential change in administration of recreation services within the County has raised questions concerning the relations between Greenbelt and the MNCPPC as far as provision of recreation services is concerned. City officials were gratified with Dutton's pledge of "cooperation" with the city in working out the details of such a relationship.

the cost of the road to the city, then the county should have observed the city taxpayers' wishes with respect to where they wanted to spend the money. (The city had offered $100,000 to reduce the cost to the Board of Education of acquiring the Parcel 15 site.)

Robertson said that the school board is prepared to assume the responsibility for those parts of the access roads that are located on school property. This would include constructing that portion of the perimeter road running in front of the high school (but not extending to Hamilton Place) and a rural cross-section street running in front of the elementary school property. This would leave an approximate 750 ft. stretch of Northway extended from the proposed street in front of the elementary school to Ridge Road for which no one would assume responsibility. The question of responsibility is unresolved also concerning the construction of a road connecting the end of Hamilton Place to the proposed perimeter road.

Robertson said that he did not feel that the school board was placing a burden on the city since the perimeter road would have to be built eventually. City Manager James K. Giese said that if it were not for the school the perimeter road would await the development of the land and the developers would share the costs. Both Aluisi and Spellman asked whether the city couldn't by ordinance require that the costs of the road be assessed later against the developers.

Aluisi Statement

Aluisi suggested that the States Road Commission, among other agencies, be approached and have it recognize some of its obligations. He thought solutions could be reached if the situation didn't get polarized, although he didn't think everyone in Greenbelt could be satisfied. In the meantime, he said he would be exploring and reviewing the matter in preparation of getting together with the Mayor in April.

At the close of the meeting, Councilwoman Elizabeth Maffay introduced chairman William Lathom and vice-chairman Rhea Cohen of the Save Our Community Committee (SOCC). Mrs. Cohen said, "we have a united city behind the mayor and council. Nobody wants the school on parcel 2, and even if the roads sweeten the plan, that still would not please the city." She and Lathom suggested the Smith-Ewing tract as a site that would accommodate both the junior and senior high schools.

Nationwide Census To be Taken April 1

Every 10 years Americans take a good look at themselves to reinforce the platform facts on which to base plans for the future course of the Nation.

The occasion is the census of population and housing conducted once each decade as required by the Constitution. The 19th in a series stretching back without interruption to 1790 will be taken on April 1.

For the average American, the census will be a simple exercise. The Government asks that you devote a few minutes to answer questions about yourself and your housing. The questions will be on printed forms that will be sent by mail to each household.

For 80 percent of the households there will be about 23 questions that require perhaps 15 minutes to answer. Fifteen minutes every 10 years is not a heavy burden. For the other 20 percent of the household, there will be an average of 69 questions that will require about 45 minutes.

It is impossible to overstate the importance of taking these few minutes to put the facts on record. Crucial decisions affecting every person in the Nation depend upon the accuracy and completeness of the census. To begin with, political power hinges on the census count: Official population figures are used to determine the fair apportionment of seats in the Congress as well as in State and local legislative bodies. Further, Federal funds are distributed locally on the basis of census population figures.

Secrecy

For the individual, the census is secret. No individual need fear that he is exposing himself to public view. The answers he gives about himself and his housing are held in strictest confidence. Census employees are forbidden by law from disclosing any fact about a person and would be subject to heavy fine or imprisonment for a violation of the law. In processing, facts about individuals are added in various ways resulting in statistical totals that depict the state of the Nation.

Change has even affected the mode of taking the 1970 census. This year, the 65 million U.S. households can be their own census takers. Each household will receive a census questionnaire by mail on or about March 28 and will be asked to fill it out as of April 1 according to enclosed instructions. The number of questions asked will be on the average the fewest of any census in the past century.

In most of the large metropolitan areas, people will be asked to mail completed questionnaires back to their census district offices in a brown postpaid envelope provided for the purpose. The envelope and form with all questions answered should be mailed on April 1. These people need not see a census taker unless they return the form incomplete, neglect to return it at all, or ask for assistance.

Festival of Music To be Held April 8

The annual Festival of Music, featuring the All-County Orchestra and Chorus, will take place on Wednesday, April 8, at Northwestern Senior High School, beginning at 8:15 p.m.

Guest conductors for the occasion will be Vito Mason, director of University Choirs and Assistant Professor of Music at the American University in Washington, D.C., and Allan Miller, director of the Youth Education Program of the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra and frequent conductor of youth concerts.

Students of the public schools of the County will be selected to perform, according to Mrs. Frances H. Lynch, Supervisor of Music, who is coordinating arrangements for the program. Among the selections to be performed by the chorus will be the Hallelujah Chorus from The Messiah.

The Festival is open to the public.

Temporary Census Jobs

The U. S. Bureau of Census needs local people to work on the 1970 Census of Population and Housing in this area, it was announced recently by Director John G. Gibson of the Census Regional Office in Philadelphia.

The jobs to be filled will be as census takers who will call upon households that have not mailed back their census forms or who have mailed back incomplete ones. Generally, they will work near their own neighborhoods.

Jobs will last from three to five weeks. Some work will be done evenings and on Saturdays as some people are at home only during those times.

Applicants must be American citizens, 18 or older, and must pass a written test to show ability to follow printed instructions and do simple arithmetic. They must also be in good physical condition for walking, standing, and climbing stairs. Most should have a home telephone, and for a few a car will be necessary. Mileage will be paid for use of a car on official census business.

Pay will be on a piece-rate basis. In addition, a fee will be paid for training if a work assignment is accepted.

The Census Bureau is an equal opportunity employer.

Interested persons in this area should call 779-3450.

CUB PACK 746 HOSTS AT BLUE & GOLD BANQUET

The boys of Pack 746 hosted their fathers and other special guests at the annual Blue and Gold Banquet held recently at Grenoble Hall.

The "Genius Night" theme was evidenced by the decorative table accessories that the cubs and den leaders worked weeks in advance preparing, and by the creatively designed "Whatever" constructions the boys made at home by combining miscellaneous household and scrap items. These were displayed and titled by the creators during the program.

Rev. Charles Nelson, Pastor of St. Hugh's led the group in prayer before dinner which was followed by a candle-light birthday ceremony marking the 60th Anniversary of Scouting.

Welcomes were extended to all from Howard Savage, pack committee chairman and Ralph Noble, representative from the pack sponsor institution the Mowatt United Methodist Church. Following these, Cubmaster William Lawson introduced special guests in attendance and the speaker, Hugh Jascourt.

Jascourt's message emphasized the importance of self-discipline and hard work in attaining a chosen goal. His use of relative examples of the time spent in practicing by some of the famous athletes of today discounted misconceptions that they can rely on their physical size alone to excel. He urged the boys to take advantage of the community recreation program and facilities.

Advancement Chairman James Hanna presented the following awards: Bobcat Pin, Brian Gardes; Wolf Badges: Hamilton Parlett, Joseph DeCuir, Philip DiLavore, Scott Goodall; Wolf Gold and Silver Arrows: Philip DiLavore, Scott Goodall; Bear Badges, Gold and Silver Arrows: Steven Hufendick, Coulter Brinkley, Brent Hayes, Richard Wooster; Bear Silver Arrow: Patrick Gardes; Webelos Activity Badges: Eric Winkler, Outdoorsman; Robert Lawson, Aquanaut, Artist, Athlete; Andrew Webster, Artist; Kirk Kubichar, Geologist; Timothy O'Brien, Athlete, Sportsman; Kevin Gardes, Michael Dean, Athlete; Stephen DeCuir, Aquanaut; One Year Pin: Stephen Webber; Two Year Pins: Donald King, Stephen DeCuir, Stephen Rousseau; Three Year Pin: Eric Winkler; Denner: Kenneth Blue, Stephen Hufendick, Scott Henderson, Stephen Kelly; Assistant Denner: Brent Hayes, Craig Fitzreiter, Patrick Gardes, Hamilton Parlett; Webelos Award: Eric Winkler.

A graduation certificate was presented to Eric Winkler from the pack and he was accepted into the Scout Troop by Asst. Scoutmaster Curtis Loud.

Youth-Family Concerts

Eight youthful pianists, winners of the annual contest sponsored by the Maryland State Music Teachers Association in Prince Georges and Montgomery Counties, will be soloists with the Prince Georges Symphony Orchestra in a pair of concerts March 22 and 25 in Bowie and New Carrollton. Four pianists will perform at each concert.

The orchestra will perform at 3 p.m. Sunday, March 22, in Sacred Heart Catholic Church on Route 450, between Race Track Road and Route 3. On Wednesday evening, the concert will begin at 8:15 p.m. at Charles Carroll Junior High School. Both concerts will be conducted by Dr. Emerson Head.

In addition to accompanying the soloists, the orchestra will play Dvorak's Slavonic Dance No. 8, the "Emperor" Waltzes by Johann Strauss, Barber's Adagio for Strings, and Walton's Orb & Sceptre.

There is no charge for admission to the concerts.

You're right if you checked all four boxes.

Freedom Shares are a shrewd investment because they pay 4.74% when held to maturity. They mature in just four-and-a-half years, and are redeemable after one year.

There is no safer investment because Freedom Shares are backed by The United States of America.

City Notes

The oil leak at 42-44 Crescent Rd. has now been repaired, city officials have stated, and new fuel lines installed to the oil storage tank. During the installation process more oil was spilled but all of it was trapped at the site. The leak was discovered to have occurred in a fuel line replaced only seven years ago. Other lines which dated from the original installation of the furnace were, however, removed and all pipes replaced. Until all evidence of oil seepage through the ground has disappeared, the city will continue to maintain oil traps on the feeder stream to the lake, authorities note.

According to Superintendent of Public Works Albert S. Attick, all leaves that have been piled along roadsides throughout the winter have now been picked up by the leaf vacuum. The machine was in operation during most of the week of March 9. In the meantime, the main Public Works crew has repaired the landfill road and also executed repairs on Edmonston Rd. and Gentry Drive and repaired a broken stretch of sidewalk on Hillside between 4 and 6 courts.

The Parks crew has planted shrubs around the Municipal Service Building and on municipal rights of way in Springhill Lake. The latter plantings are made on a shared cost basis with the management of the apartment development.

The Police Blotter

Greenbelt's first traffic fatality of the year occurred on March 8, at 4 p.m. David Young, age 32, was changing lanes on Kenilworth Avenue, 3000 feet north of Old Calvert Rd., when his motorcycle ran off the road. He was taken to Leland Memorial Hospital, where he died at 9 p.m. Sunday evening. He was a resident of College Park.

The druggist at the Co-op Pharmacy reported that a woman was trying to obtain narcotics with forged doctor's prescriptions.

A 13-year-old boy was charged with indecent exposure at Springhill Lake. He was released into the custody of his parents on the condition that they seek professional help for him.

On March 5 the city basketball team played the Parkdale faculty. Officers Salvatore, VanValkenburgh, Vogel, and Enrico represented the police department. The city team lost, 71-61.

Going down the cellar stairs:

With 60 watts.

60 watts are fine for "fill in" or mood lighting, but could be seriously inadequate when you really have to see where you're going.

With 150 watts.

Much better. Much safer. And, if nothing else, a lot easier on the eyes.

Like other little things, light bulbs are easily neglected. But, if they're not right, big things can go wrong. Adding extra light doesn't hurt you in the pocket either. For every hour an extra 100 watts of light is on, you pay only about 2/10ths of a cent.

Pepco's Home Service Department has some handy guidelines about the bulb wattages, lamps and fixtures that should be used for reading, for work areas and for decorative lighting. If you'd like a copy of a booklet on the subject, give Pepco's Lighting Advisor a ring. The number is 628-8800 extension 393.

A brighter bulb wouldn't hurt.
